Notice to Respondent of Application for Divorce

If you have made a sole application for divorce you must attach this notice to the front page of the Application for Divorce to be served on the respondent.

TO THE RECIPIENT OF THIS NOTICE

In the attached application the applicant is applying for a divorce. The Court has set down the hearing of this application at the time and place shown on page one of the application. You are only required to attend court if you do not want the divorce to be granted.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

1. Sign and date the Acknowledgement of Service (Divorce) at Part C.
2. Return the Acknowledgement of Service (Divorce) to the person who served the application on you. Keep the other documents for your records.
3. Check the details given by the applicant in the application to make sure they are correct to the best of your knowledge.
4. Carefully read the Marriage, Families and Separation brochure provided. It sets out the legal and possible social effects of divorce and the services provided to families by the court and other government and community agencies.

AFTER THE DIVORCE IS FINALISED

One month and one day after the divorce is granted, a divorce order will be available for you to download from the Commonwealth Courts Portal (the Portal). Divorce orders are digital orders with an electronic seal and signature and are the only type of proof of divorce the Court provides. The Portal also allows you to check the progress of the application and select to receive notifications.

To register for the Portal or if you need assistance, provide your file number (located on the front page of the application), full name, date of birth and name of the other party so we can verify your identity by:

- Emailing registerme@comcourts.gov.au
- LiveChat on the website www.federalcircuitcourt.gov.au
- Calling the National Enquiry Centre on 1300 352 000

WHAT TO DO IF YOU:

WANT THE DIVORCE GRANTED BUT DISAGREE WITH SOME OF THE FACTS IN THE APPLICATION

File a Response to Divorce and outline the facts you disagree with. You do not need to attend the court hearing.

DO NOT WANT THE DIVORCE GRANTED

File a Response to Divorce and outline the reasons why you oppose the divorce. You should attend the hearing. If you do not attend, the court may make a decision about the divorce in your absence.

In certain circumstances you can ask the court to appear by telephone. For example, if you live some distance from the Court, you have an illness or disability, the costs of attending will cause you financial hardship or you have safety concerns. You must complete the Telephone Link Attendance Request form which you can then eFile on the Portal to make your request.

YOU MUST file and serve the Response to Divorce:

- within 28 days of the application being served on you if you are in Australia, or
- within 42 days of the application being served on you if you are outside of Australia.

You can eFile the *Response to Divorce*on the Portal. See 'Commonwealth Courts Portal' at www.federalcircuitcourt.gov.au/howdoi for more information.

After filing the response you must serve a copy on the other party. For a step-by-step guide to service see 'Service' at www.federalcircuitcourt.gov.au/howdoi

PROPERTY AND MAINTENANCE is dealt with separately. If you want to apply to the Court about property or maintenance you must file a separate application within 12 months of the date the divorce is finalised. Otherwise you will need the Court's permission to apply. For more information see 'Applications and orders' at www.federalcircuitcourt.gov.au/howdoi

ALL the Court forms mentioned in this notice are available on the website www.federalcircuitcourt.gov.au

LEGAL ADVICE – You can obtain free legal advice by contacting the Family Relationships Advice Line on 1800 050 321 (+61 7 3423 6878) or Legal Aid in your state or territory. A lawyer can help you understand your rights and responsibilities.

Where to file your divorce application

You can file your divorce application, online via www.comcourts.gov.au, by post, or in person at any one of the following family law registries.
